12:00 PM 1:00 PM

Hear about the Portland Street Plaza Program from staff from Portland Bureau of Transportation (PBOT) and Mayer/Reed design firm.

The Public Street Plaza Program, spearheaded by PBOT, aims to convert specific city streets into vibrant public spaces that reflect and serve the community. Originating from the street closures prompted by COVID-19 indoor dining restrictions, this pilot program is now on the path to becoming a permanent fixture in the city. Representatives from PBOT and Mayer/Reed will outline the vision for these spaces as well as share insights into the program's development, including the design and operational challenges and opportunities they're currently navigating.

20:17:10 From Rene H : Thank you Allen. You all wear ten hats I think. I tried to get a couple neighbors involved-but everyone seems tapped currently.
